Reference is made to your letter of January 24, 1950, and to our letter of August 8, 1950, relative to the above-captioned individual.

During a review of the information submitted by your office concerning Johanna Wilhelmina Koenen, it has been noted that she was formerly married to one Harry Wagner who was arrested in Russia by the NKVD and imprisoned. Your summary of information further reflects that Wagner was later released and went to Germany from Russia, that he has since remarried and broken with the Communist movement. (X) & (S) u

It is further noted that while in prison, according to your summary, Wagner was visited by one Captain Jakovlev of the NKVD, and that Jakovlev told Wagner that Johanna Wagner, who is presently known as Johanna Wilhelmina Koenen, the subject of this investigation, had been an informant of the NKVD. (S)U

The possibility exists that Anatoli Yakovlev, who was never mentioned as a member of the NKVD, may be identified with Anatoli Antonovich Yakovlev, who was a clerk at the Soviet Consulate from 1941 to 1946, and was Assistant Consul General in New York from 1946 to December, 1947, when he left the United States. For your information, the photograph of the latter individual was shown to Harry Gold, who stated that it was a photograph of the subject. After discussing the name of Anatoli Jacob Yakovlev with Gold, however, he studied the photograph further and concluded that it was not a photograph of this subject, but of someone bearing a close resemblance to him. In this regard, when Gold was first shown still photographs of the subject he did not positively identify them as being pictures of his Soviet superior "John." He made this identification positively only after viewing motion pictures of the subject.

Reference is made to the memorandum dated March 23, 1951, from Mr. Hennrich to you, concerning the captioned individual, which requested any information pertaining to Anatoli Antonovich Yakovlev available at AFSA.

The following information in AFSA records has been identified with Yakovlev:

His name was first carried in the Congressional Directory of 1947 (page 507), where he is listed as Vice Consul, New York. The first reference to him as Vice Consul in the AFSA files is a newspaper interview reported by the "New York Times" on October 11, 1946.

Classified by 3043 PWT/M

According to newspaper reports of August, October, and November, 1950, he left the United States in December, 1946. ("New York Times" 7:1, August 18, 1950; "New York Herald Tribune" 16:4, October 11, 1950; "New York Times" 16:3, November 17, 1950.) However, a Military Attaché report from France dated March 27, 1947, stated that in November, 1946, A. A. Yakovlev was in Russia awaiting shipment to France as Vice Consul to the Consular Section of the Soviet Embassy.

The "Paris Diplomatic List" of July 15, 1947, issued by the French Foreign Office, carries Anatoli Yakovlev as an attache in Paris. The "Paris Diplomatic List" of January 15, 1948, listed Anatoli Yakovlev as Second Secretary, Paris. A French diplomatic message of March 16, 1950, indicates that he was promoted prior to the publication of the 1948 diplomatic list. Evidently Yakovlev was performing the duties of Vice Consul prior to the publication of this list. One source indicated that Yakovlev was serving as Vice Consul in Paris on March 8, 1947.

(S) In connection with the foregoing information, attention is directed to the fact that the name, position and date periods indicate that Anatoli A. Yakoulev, Vice Consul and Second Secretary in Paris from 1947 to 1948, is identical with Anatoli Antonovich Yakoulev, Vice Consul in New York. AFSA had no information to indicate that he had ever used the middle name of Jacob or Alexandrovich. There is no evidence to indicate that he returned to France in 1949 in any official capacity, and in fact the total absence of any information on him in the Paris to Moscow traffic during 1949 and since then leads to the strong conclusion that he has not in fact returned to France. The records of the Armed Forces Security Agency were checked for information concerning Yakovlev and it was determined that according to the records, Yakovlev's name was first carried in the Congressional Directory of 1947 (page 507), where he is listed as Vice Consul, New York. Their records also reflect that his name appeared in a newspaper interview reported by the "New York Times" on October 11, 1946.

With reference to Yakovlev's departure from the United States on December 27, 1946, it is interesting to note that AFSA records indicate that a Military Attaché report from France dated March 27, 1947, stated that in November, 1946, A. A. Yakovlev was in Russia awaiting shipment to France as Vice Consul to the Consular Section of the Soviet Embassy.

According to this source, the "Paris Diplomatic List" of July 15, 1947, issued by the French Foreign Office, carries Antoli Jakovlev as an Attaché in Paris. This same list of January 15, 1948, listed Antoli Jakovlev as Second Secretary, Paris. He was not carried in the "Paris Diplomatic List" of January 1, 1949, or any subsequent list.

AFSA records reflect that a "Washington Evening Star" story of October 14, 1947, lists one Jakovlev as a member of a Russian espionage net in France. It is not known, however, if this report refers to subject or to some other person of the same name.

DECLASSIFIED ON

In connection with the foregoing information, AFSA pointed out that the name, position and date periods indicate that Anatoli A. Yakovlev, First Consul and Second Secretary in Paris from 1947 to 1948, is identical with subject. AFSA advised that it had no information to indicate that subject had ever used the middle name of Jacob or Alexandrovich. Furthermore, AFSA had no evidence to indicate that subject had returned to France in 1949 in any official capacity.

In his article, WELLER analyzed the status of the Communist world offensive. In connection with the article, a chart was presented indicating the vast Communist organization in France. The heading of the chart was concerned with the Politburo, and this heading was broken down into two main sections, one of which revealed the Comintern authority over Communist strategy in the Communist-owned countries, and the second of which pertained to the Government of the U.S.S.R. Under the latter section, the chart revealed the flow of intelligence information to the Politburo through the Russian Government operations in Paris, France. The chart revealed two main outlets from the Soviet Diplomatic Mission in Paris and under the caption, "Political Police 'MVD'" were listed the names AERABOV, JAKOWLEV and SMIRNOV. According to the chart, the Political Police set-up of the Russian Government in Paris flowed directly to the Embassy of the U.S.S.R. in Paris.

Bureau letter of September 9, 1949, set forth information concerning Johanna Koenen received from the Intelligence Division of the Department of the Army (no date given) which stated in part: Captain Jakovlev of the NKVD visited Harry Wagner in prison and told Wagner that the latter's wife, Johanna Wagner, had been an informant of the NKVD and had been reporting to Captain Jakovlev. A letter enclosed a photograph of Anatoli Yakovlev, a clerk at the Soviet Consulate at New York City, from February 4, 1941, to May 26, 1946, and Assistant Consul-General at New York City from July 26, 1946, to December 27, 1946, when he left the United States for Paris, France. In 1944 and 1945, he directed the espionage activities of Harry Gold in gathering information concerning the atom bomb in the United States. There was also little doubt that Yakovlev directed the espionage activities of Julius Rosenberg's network. (b) release per authority

It was noted that Johanna Koenen had been residing in New York City since 1939. It was requested that the Bureau through the Department of Army have the photograph of Anatoli Yakovlev exhibited to Harry Wagner in Germany to determine if Yakovlev was the Captain Jakovlev who directed Johanna Koenen's activities in Moscow.

III MISCELLANEOUS INFORMATION

Mrs. GLENNA ~~X~~ MC BROOM WALKER, 14 East 90th Street, New York City, advised SA WILLIAM D. WRIGHT, III in July, 1952 that she taught English at the Amtorg Technicum from January, 1944 to August, 1948. She advised she knew the subject slightly and knew the subject's wife somewhat better. She noted that she taught Mrs. YAKOVLEV and that her English was not very good and inferior to the average Columbian student among the Soviets. She first taught Mrs. YAKOVLEV about 1947 and taught her for a year and a half, although she realized that Mrs. YAKOVLEV had been in the United States for a longer period. She noted that the subject and his wife had twin children who were born in the United States and had American nurses, who were said to have spoken only English. (It would appear that Mrs. WALKER may be mistaken as to the year in which she began to teach Mrs. YAKOVLEV as the subject and Mrs. YAKOVLEV both left the United States in December, 1946.)

relationships between South American and United States doctors. GERSHBERG had identified himself by exhibiting his American Medical Association membership card numbered 55669 and his naturalization certificate numbered 3227801, issued April 14, 1930 at New York City. GERSHBERG claimed that OBERMAYER was very hostile and called him a fake and impostor. Apparently the purpose of GERSHBERG's complaint was to secure printing of a letter written by him threatening OBERMAYER with a law suit.

On September 21, 1946 the San Antonio Police Department, San Antonio, Texas, provided the information that Dr. JACOB MAX GERSHBERG, 125 Riverside Drive, New York City, had been arrested in connection with soliciting contributions from local physicians for the International Spanish Speaking Association of Physicians, 125 Riverside Drive, New York City. At the time of his arrest he claimed to have been born in Bessarabia and was an American citizen. He was released at that time due to lack of evidence of fraud in connection with his solicitations.

When KACEDAN appeared at the Boston Office, he claimed it was a matter of official record that he had opposed Communism for many years. He stated that since 1926 he had made approximately one hundred anti-Communist speeches before various church and society groups. His purpose for joining the Massachusetts Council of American-Soviet Friendship was to assist in the collection of money and clothing, and his motive was purely patriotic. He also stated that he was a member of the Russian-American Democratic Club; a Russian club called "Knowledge" and the St. Platen Brotherhood, which was affiliated with the Russian Orthodox Church. All these organizations, KACEDAN stated, were anti-Communist in nature.

It was noted that in the information voluntarily furnished by KACEDAN that he never mentioned that he had any contact with the subject or any one else at the Soviet Consulate in New York City.

DIMITRI APOSOLOFF, age 53 and his wife, ANTONIA, age 47 and his daughter, MARY, age 14, were passengers aboard the SS NIKOLAEV, which departed from Baltimore for Odessa, Russia on February 23, 1949. The final destination of the APOSOLOFF family was listed as Moscow, Russia.

T-11, another Government agency that conducts security investigations, furnished information on March 28, 1949 that reflected that DIMITRI APOSOLOFF and his wife and daughter were aboard the Soviet ship "NIKOLAEV" which left the Canal Zone on March 25, 1949 enroute to Odessa, Russia. At the Canal Zone, APOSOLOFF had stated that he and his wife had lived in the United States for sixteen years. He claimed that he had worked for the Texaco Oil Company as a painter at service stations and gas tanks throughout the United States. According to T-11, APOSOLOFF was reported to be critical of the educational system of the United States calling it "rubbish." He was taking his daughter to Russia so that she could get a real education. He stated that after his daughter graduated she would enter the Soviet Diplomatic Service and would be stationed in the United States. APOSOLOFF is reported to have remarked that he hoped to see the day when the common American could throw off the yoke of capitalism. During a conversation between APOSOLOFF and the Captain of the "NIKOLAEV", he was overheard to state what he thought the plan should be for the Communists in Democratic countries. He stated that this should be done not by military might but by mass action at the proper time. He further stated that this should start first in the form of strikes and violent demonstrations, to be followed by a general country-wide strike. He added the second phase would consist of armed action and widespread acts of sabotage.

ROSENTHAL recalled meeting the subject on only three occasions, namely, on his initial visit to the Consulate, on YAKOVLEV's visit to the FRIEDLANDER's home, and about one and a half years following his initial visit to the Consulate, he and his wife made a second visit to the Consulate. The purpose of the second visit was to again inquire about his in-laws' relatives. On the last visit the subject informed them that he had been unsuccessful in obtaining any information.

ROSENTHAL stated that YAKOVLEV never asked for any information, nor was he furnished any, relative to the United States. ROSENTHAL had no acquaintance with any of the individuals in the ROSENBERG case but recalled reading in the newspapers that YAKOVLEV was involved in it.

In the course of the interview, ROSENTHAL admitted that approximately once a month between 1946 and 1948, he contributed drawings to the "Daily Worker", (an East coast Communist newspaper). He was paid about five dollars for each drawing. He had hoped the experience would lead to a commercial drawing job for a magazine. He claimed that, with the "increased international situation" between Russia and the United States, he no longer wanted to be associated with a Communist newspaper and stopped furnishing sketches. He denied ever being a member of the Communist Party (CP).

On 9/13/51, Walter Zuk (64-32685) was interviewed in NYC, concerning Anatoli Jakovlev or Yakovlev, who might be identical with Anatoli Yakovlev, former Vice-Consul of the New York Soviet Consulate. Zuk advised that he became friendly with Mrs. Yakovlev, whose husband was a Colonel in the Russian Intelligence Service, while Zuk operated as a German spy out of Charkov, in December, 1941. In March 1942, Mrs. Yakovlev requested Zuk to obtain certain information which she could transmit to her husband. Zuk was shown a photograph of Mrs. Yakovlev, wife of the former Vice-Consul, and advised that she was not identical with the Mrs. Yakovlev that he knew. It was noted that the Vice Consul and his wife entered the US on 2/4/41, and were in New York during the period that Zuk knew Mrs. Yakovlev. (S) (4)
